The paper “On the Efficiency of Heat Engines” has been removed from this site as a result of the recent acceptance of the more complete “Occult Parasitic Energy Loss in Heat Engines” by the International Journal of Energy Research. This new paper is both more rigorous in the derivation of the theory and more comprehensive in examining the range of heat engines to which it can be successfully applied.

I direct your attention to that journal and thank you for your interest.
